Communication:

- Please return your completed problem-sets to my slot-box located in F534 (PhD lounge) by 5:00 p.m. on Thursday. Should my slot be full, use the box I have placed on top of the slots marked for this purpose. If for some reason you are not able to access F534, you can slide your papers under my office door.
- Email is the surest and fastest way to reach me. Please include "MBA201" in the subject field of your email. This will enable me to treat your message with priority.

Section objectives:

I will organize the sections to solve the weekly problem sets. I may solve additional problems in the sections preceding the midterm and final exams. The chief objective of the sections is to help you better understand the material covered in class by elaboration, clarification, and repetition of the material as necessary. You can help me achieve this objective by letting me know the material you want covered beforehand, by asking questions, and with feedback. Sending me an email about your particular difficulty will help me determine whether it is best tackled in section, during office hours, or by email.

Section attendance:

You are not required to attend sections if you had no difficulty with the problem set, and believe you have a good grasp of the material covered in class.

Section schedule:

September 5, Problem Set #1 discussion

September 12, Problem Set #2 discussion

September 19, Problem Set #3 discussion

September 26, Midterm review (September 22, Midterm Exam, 6-8pm, Andersen Auditorium)

October 3, Problem Set #4 discussion

October 10, Problem Set #5 discussion
